

One hundred flowers

Let there be one hundred flowers of peace
that bloom in the garden

Let there be one hundred hours of peace for every moment of war

Let there be one hundred acts of kindness for each instance of hate

Let there be one hundred years of love for each minute of violence

Let there be one hundred voices of peace for each one of war

Let there be one hundred flowers of peace
that bloom in the garden.

Author: Dr T Namaya, Vermont, USA

